About Me

Hi! I'm Matilda, a Danish professional dancer and content creator based in Los Angeles, California.

My life revolves around movement and creativity, whether I'm performing on stage, traveling the world on tour with an artist, or sharing moments from my daily life in Hollywood.

I've built a vibrant global audience that follows my journey through dance, travel, fitness and beauty. I'm fluent in English, Danish and German, and currently learning Spanish, which helps me connect with my American, Latin and European followers.

Beyond social media, I run a dance blog called Love Notes To LA, recently recognized as one of the top 15 dance blogs in LA. My goal is to inspire others to chase their passions, do it scared and live a confident, FUN and creative life.
